

Politically, Fireworks Not Spectacular

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Political fireworks were generally unspectacular Wednesday as most of Arkansas' Democratic gubernatorial candidates made the rounds of Independence Day picnics at Portia, Piggott, Corning, Caraway and other spots over the state.

Rep. Dale Alford proposed to increase the amount of aid now going to cities and counties by 50 per cent by plowing normal increases into auto license fees and gasoline taxes into turnback money to allow a greater use of federal matching funds.

Former Gov. Sid McMath declared he left the governor's office broke, but consoled by the knowledge he had never turned the state over to the big operators and had never surrendered his administration to the "bond dealers, chain bankers or utility tycoons."

Vernon Whitten of Mount Holly continued plugging for "what is right for Arkansas," heading the list with morality and legality in state government, improved state services with no increase in cost and increased individual incomes as tax decreases.

Kenneth Coffelt, in his usual whirlwind fashion, visited five picnics and blasted away at gambling and liquor interests, utility rates and local political bosses who "serve the Faubus gang."

Gov. Orval E. Faubus, hitting the campaign trail again after spending Sunday through Tuesday at the National Governors Conference in Hershey, Pa., charged at Portia that Alford was put into the race by integrationists who are trying to get McMath into a runoff.

If McMath wins, Faubus said, Arkansas Gazette Publisher Hugh Patterson and Negro leader Mrs. L. C. Bates of Little Rock will control the destinies of the state.

Faubus charged that "New York and Wall Street" money will be pumped into Arkansas to help McMath if he gets in a runoff.

After Faubus called him a "tool of integrationists," Alford countered that Faubus had done nothing for states rights since the 1957-1958 Little Rock integration crisis.

"I charge that Orval Faubus has used the (states rights) issue to get his political racketeers into office since then," Alford said.

Algie Whitten of Marianna, candidate Whitten's brother, said his brother was just what Arkansas politics needs—"a new face, a man with a business background."

McMath told the Portia crowd—which ranged from about 300 to more than 900, according to the speaker—that Faubus wanted to retire this year but the interests which control him would not let him quit. He said Faubus would be a captive governor and recommended that the voters help him retire, as he wants to.

David Cox of Weiner listed no itinerary.

Alford told his audiences the normal increase of motor vehicles during the past year had upped revenue from license fees and gasoline taxes by about $3.5 million.

"This increase," he said, should rightfully go to the counties and

Kroger Scholarship to Emmet Student

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Kroger Co., scholarships have been awarded to four Arkansas high school graduates who plan to enroll next fall in the University of Arkansas' College of Agriculture and Home Economics. The $250 scholarships went to Thomas Arthur Felke of Stuttgart, Mark Wren Armstrong of Emmet, Carol Jane Heathman of Manila and Charlotte Marie Chase of Pearey.

Holiday Toll of Deaths New Record

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Traffic accidents killed a record 143 persons during the nation's 30-hour observance of Independence Day.

Final figures may boost the total past the record high toll of 137 for a one-day Fourth of July holiday period.

The country's over-all accident death toll was 248. It included 15 deaths in boating accidents, 54 drownings and 3 deaths in miscellaneous accidents.

Howard Pyle, president of the National Safety Council, termed the record toll tragically high.

"We can only draw one conclusion from this needless waste of human life—drivers are failing to observe basic rules of common sense and courtesy," Pyle said.

The National Safety Council, in a preholiday statement, said the death toll for the midweek holiday period would range between 110 and 150. It also said that nearly all of the nation's 76 million cars would be on the go some time during the holiday period. Showers dampened celebrations in some areas but it was sunny and mild in many sections.

In other violent deaths, 50 persons drowned, 14 lost their lives in boating accidents and 31 were killed in miscellaneous accidents. The over-all total of 225 did not include any fatalities from fireworks.

The nation's worst traffic accident on the holiday killed seven persons in a head-on collision near Eveleth, in the Iron Range country of northern Minnesota. Five persons, including a couple and their two sons, were killed in one of the cars.

In Modesto, Calif., three children were killed by an auto as a Fourth of July parade broke up in the downtown district.

Among the 50 persons who drowned during the holiday period were five children aboard a small flat-bottomed boat which capsized in a lake near Sanford, Fla. Four other children and two adults were thrown into the water but were rescued.

An Atlantic Coast Line passenger train carrying holiday passengers from Florida to New York was derailed near Florence, S.C., killing the engineer and the fireman and injuring 13 persons.

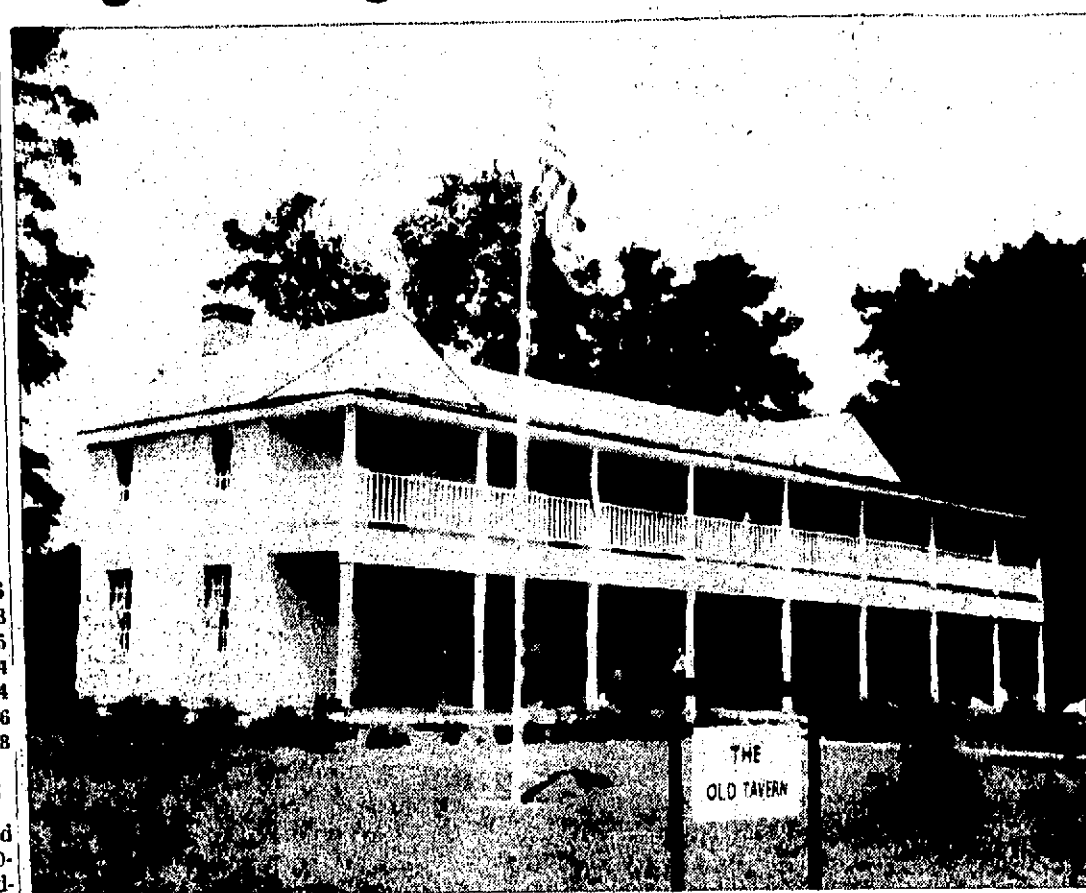

Two previous attempts at a high-altitude shot failed because of missile troubles. The nuclear warheads in both cases were destroyed without a nuclear detonation.

Repeated delays and failures have caused speculation that the planned high-altitude series of three or four shots may have to be curtailed to two and possibly even a single shot.

The latest try—originally scheduled for the Fourth of July—was postponed until tonight because of apparent technical difficulties. There was no explanation for the delay.

The high-altitude blast is designed to knock out communications across the Pacific by punching a hole in the ionosphere—a band of space particles which reflect radio signals—and Van Allen radiation belts.

Flag Raising Held at Washington

Hope Group Honored at State Meet

Delegates from Hope attending the American Legion Auxiliary, Department of Arkansas, convention at Little Rock were National Committee woman, Mrs. E. F. Formby, District President Mrs. E. Jones, Mrs. Cora Evans, Mrs. E. S. Franklin, Mrs. Rachel Edmiston and Mrs. C. E. Taylor.

At the Sunday session Mrs. Joe Jones was installed as vice president of the Western Division of Arkansas and was elected a delegate to the National Convention to be held in Las Vegas Oct. 5-9.

Hope holds the distinction of being represented at the convention on the national, state, district and local level. Leslie Huddleston Post 12 led the field of 163 units in winning awards, getting nine of 41, the largest ever won by a single unit.

Honors went to Barbara Reese for the best Poppy Poster and her entry will be entered in National competition. Miss Marjorie Branch won the state "Little Miss Poppy" contest; Cookie Jones and Margie Herndon tied for first in Poppy Sales. District 12, of which Mrs. Jones is retiring president, also took several awards.

Mrs. McKinney, 87, Buried at Saratoga

Mrs. Dora Howard McKinney, aged 87, longtime resident of Saratoga, died Tuesday at a Nashville rest home.

Survivors include two sons, Press of Saratoga and W. M. McKinney of Sheridan; two daughters, Mrs. Roy McKee of Mineral Springs and Mrs. Madge McLeod of Saratoga, a sister, Mrs. Delcy Hitchcock of Shreveport.

Services were held at 11 a.m. July 4 at Saratoga by M. H. and in total brother sales with Pecbles. Burial was in charge of Herndon-Cornelius Funeral service.

Train Strikes, Kills a Man

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — James Matthews, about 45, of Hot Springs, was struck and killed by a Rock Island train Wednesday in Little Rock.

Police said trainmen told them they saw Matthews lying on the tracks just before the engine hit him.

The Union Rescue Mission said Matthews had registered there Sunday.

Boiler Profits

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Arkansas and Louisiana were the only two Southern states to gain in boiler profits during 1961, the U.S. Department of Commerce reported Wednesday. Arkansas was up four per cent and Louisiana three per cent. Arkansas was second in total boiler sales with $94,574,000. Georgia had sales of $156,727,000, but this was nine per cent below the state's 1960 sales.

Violence Is Threatened in Doctor's Strike

REGINA, Sask. (AP) — The threat of violence was injected today into the strike of Saskatchewan doctors against the government's compulsory medical care program. Temperatures grew short as more doctors reportedly were moving out of the province.

As the government program and doctors' strike moved into the fifth day, each side sought to marshal public support. Neither side showed any sign of backing down.

The doctors stuck to their demand that provincial Premier Woodrow Lloyd's Socialist government do away with the compulsory feature of the program.

The government refused to budge and claimed the medical care situation was apparently under control. Deputy Premier J. H. Brockelbank declared there "appears nothing in the nature of panic and alarm."

But in the western Saskatchewan town of Swift Current, police guards were posted at the homes of two doctors after an organization calling itself the "Swift Current Citizens Safety Committee" threatened the doctors and their families.

The threats, in letters to the town's weekly newspaper and a radio station, ordered the doctors to get down from their "chosen pedestal" and return to normal practice by Friday morning. Otherwise, the letters warned, the doctors would "suffer such harm to themselves, their families or their property as the organization Continued on Page Three

Wet Fields Slows Crops in State

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Crop Reporting Service says wet weather is interfering with field work in much of east central Arkansas and in scattered areas in the northeast, central and southeast. However cotton is developing satisfactorily and is in good condition in most areas, the federal-state agency said in its weekly crop bulletin.

The report said rice is making fine progress under favorable conditions, but the condition of soybeans varies greatly—ranging from excellent to poor. The major portion of the crop is rated fair to good.

Considerable replanting of soybeans will be necessary. Some south Arkansas growers are reporting roasting ears on early corn. The early peach harvest is about over in the Nashville area with supply short but the fruit has good size and color.

The tomato harvest is well along in south Arkansas. Quality has improved, but showers still are causing some cracking. Later tomatoes are reported in good condition in Searcy and Madison counties.

College Boys Get Tax Refunds

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Internal Revenue Service said today it had made a tax refund to two Arkansas college boys who worked and filed an income tax return under the same name.

James H. Ball, chief of administration of the IRS in Little Rock, said the boys could not be identified under IRS laws protecting taxpayers. He could not say how much the refund was or how much tax the youths paid.

"The situation was worked out to our satisfaction as well as theirs," Ball said. "They got their money and we got ours."

How the boys divide the refund is up to them, Ball said.

The two youths reportedly worked at the same place under the same name, then filed only one income tax return.

Freeman Says He'll Recover U. S. Losses

By G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman told Senate probers today he will try to recover for the government losses on challenged cotton deals for which he blamed the Dwight D. Eisenhower administration.

Involved, he said, is a controversial general report dated June 29 that brokers acting as agents for his department's Commodity Credit Corp. in 1959 and 1960 sold to themselves $400 million worth of government cotton at prices averaging $4 less, and ranging up to $20 a bale less than published market prices.

The report, made public Monday, said the practice was stopped in April 1961. It did not name brokers involved, but recommended that the department try to recover any deficiencies in sales proceeds.

Testifying before the Senate Investigations subcommittee in the Billie Sol Estes hearings, Freeman said Horace D. Godfrey, now one of his top aides, had registered several protests against the policy all to no avail, while Republican Ezra Taft Benson was secretary.

The subcommittee let Freeman read his statement into evidence, although members questioned whether it was pertinent at this time to their probe of the Estes case.

The subcommittee is seeking to determine whether political influence helped Texas financier Estes in profitable manipulations under cotton and grain storage farm aid programs. Estes' operations are not involved in the report to which Freeman referred.

Chairman John L. McClellan, D-Ark., told his colleagues that Freeman, having already testified he will accept responsibility for anything which happened under his administration, had a right to make the statement.

The multimillion-dollar financial empire built by Estes at the age of 37 has crumbled. He awaits trial on state and federal fraud charges. Grand juries and congressional groups are looking into his big money schemes.

In testimony last week, Freeman swore he believed he had fired or otherwise dealt with all those in the department who had improper dealings with Estes.

The subcommittee planned to turn next to Estes' relationships with state, county and federal farm aid officials.

Indictments against Estes charge that he obtained millions of dollars worth of mortgages on nonexistent fertilizer storage tanks.

Chicago Youth Drowns in River

LAKE CITY, Ark. (AP)—Billy John Hall, 10, of Chicago, drowned Wednesday when he fell from a railroad trestle into the St. Francis River.

Officers said the boy apparently lost his balance while throwing fireworks from the trestle and fell into the water about 20 feet below.

The body was recovered about a half mile downstream. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Holmes of Chicago, were visiting friends at Lake City.

Kennedy, Top Economic Men in Conference

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy conferred for an hour today with his top economic lieutenants before facing a news conference where the possibility of quick tax reduction was likely to be a big question.

Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon told newsmen as he left the White House they discussed just economic, but admitted this covered a broad field.

Also in the huddle were Chairman Walter W. Heller of the President's Council of Economic Advisors and the two other council members, James Tobin and Kenneth Gordon.

Dillon brought with him Undersecretary of the Treasury Robert V. Roosa, who is responsible for problems of managing the national debt. He would be deeply involved if the President bowed to labor and business pressure for tax reduction as a business stimulant, because tax-rate reduction would mean a huge federal deficit and more government borrowing.

There was no indication, however, from the Treasury officials or the economists whether their canvass of economic developments in June indicated a weakening of economy which might persuade Kennedy to call for a prompt rate reduction.

Kennedy's economic conference today followed a speech Wednesday in which he called for a united Europe.

The President flies back to the capital from an overnight stay in Camp David—the presidential retreat in Maryland's Catoctin Mountains—for his late morning meeting with Dillon as pressures for a tax cut this year mounted in and out of Congress.

Both Kennedy and Dillon have expressed the view that taxes should not be reduced until next year. However, Kennedy has indicated that the question of tax reduction this year was still open and depended on the state of the economy.

Representatives of both business and labor have proposed tax cuts. The situation likely will be aired later today at Kennedy's news conference.

Kennedy flew Wednesday morning from Washington Philadelphia, where, at historic Independence Hall, he called for an international declaration of interdependence.

No Traffic Deaths in Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Two drownings, a train accident and a mysterious highway death near Beebe gave Arkansas four violent deaths on the Fourth of July holiday.

There were no reported traffic fatalities.

Tummy Lee Morgan, 17, of Scott, drowned in the Old River Lake near Scott. The body was not recovered. His brother, J. W. Morgan, 16, reported the drowning.

Billy John Hall, 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Holmes of Chicago, drowned in the St. Francis River at Lake City after he fell from a railroad trestle while shooting fireworks.

White County officers are waiting for an autopsy report to determine what caused the death of Johnny Alfred Redding, 29, of Hensley, whose body was found beside U.S. Highway 64 six miles west of Beebe early Wednesday.

The back of Redding's head was crushed. Officers said they doubted he was a hit and run victim and theorized he either fell or was thrown from a fast-moving vehicle.

James Matthews, about 45, of Hot Springs was struck and killed by a Rock Island freight in east Little Rock early Wednesday.

Train crewmen told police they saw Matthews lying on the track but it was too late to stop. Officers said Matthews checked into the Union Rescue Mission Sunday.

There are too many cars of tomorrow on the roads of yesterday and too many of yesterday's cars on the roads of tomorrow.

The balloon project which has held such interest for the past few days has about ended here. The balloon itself was found and recovered partially inflated from a field in the Ozan area. The gondola which prematurely separated from the balloon causing the experiment to be a failure, was found and recovered in the DeAnn area. However, it was considerably damaged. An instrument container some six feet by three feet hadn't been found at noon today and directors of Stratocope II have offered a $200 reward for its return.

It is believed to have fallen somewhere in the area between the SPG industrial site east and the Blowing highway. Meanwhile at Municipal airport workers appeared to be making every effort to "clean up" things here and move the project to Palestine, Texas. Equipment was being loaded onto trucks yesterday and today.

Gun Battle Shatters Oran Peace

By ANDRÉ BOROWIEC

ALGIER (AP)—A violent gun battle in the heart of Oran's European city today shattered the Algerian celebration of its first official independence holiday. More than 100 dead and wounded were reported in the first hour of the fighting, which swept the former stronghold of European rule. The Algerian Army Organization terrorists, Algerian guerrillas. But the military Two hours after the fighting started, gunfire still raged over the city. French riot police cars set up positions near the battle area.

The gunfire panicked tens of thousands of Moslems in the midst of a delirious celebration. An official of the city's main hospital said all the casualties taken there were Moslems. But a number of Europeans also were killed or wounded.

A Modern policeman said the firing came from huddled terrorists of the European secret army, whose leaders had bowed to Algerian independence after months of murder and arson. The policeman's report could not be immediately confirmed.

The Oran violence, first since the French left the city last year, erupted Tuesday, erupted against a backdrop of a power struggle for leadership of the new-born nation.

In Algiers, nationalist Premier Ferhat Hached took the summer stronghold of European rule. He led from 500 battle-hardened Algerian Army Organization terrorists, Algerian guerrillas. cities as turnback money." He said about $7 million now goes for turnback.

Alford said under the present distribution, the counties cannot afford to match the federal money available for improvement of the farm-to-market and county roads.

Coffelt promised at Mulberry that if he were elected, "Tom Harper and Bob Young of Fort Smith won't run the governor's office."

At Dover, his targets were "Harry Hastings and his liquor empire," and gambling at Hot Springs, Conway County Sheriff Martin Hawkins of Morrilton and "other Faulstich politicians" in the area.

He visited Beebe and Judson during the afternoon and trained his guns on state Highway Commissioner Truman Baker of Searcy, "the political boss for Faulstich in White County."

Coffelt charged that gamblers were contributing money to Faulstich, McMath and Alford and that Dane Harris, whom he called "the gambling lord of Hot Springs," was McMath's right-hand advisor when McMath lived in Garland County.

Marion county was first named Searcy county, but in 1836 the name was changed to honor Francis Marion, a Revolutionary War General.

JFK Invites Japs to Build U. S. Plants

By ALAN CLINE

TOKYO (AP)—The Kennedy administration has invited Japan to invest in building factories in the United States.

The invitation was announced by the Japanese foreign ministry and confirmed by a spokesman for the U.S. Embassy.

Wichita, Kan., Wilmington, N.C., Maine, New Jersey and areas on the West Coast were mentioned as regions where industrialization might be expanded with Japanese funds.

Such a development would help correct a U.S. adverse balance of payments situation, sources said. Japanese exports to the United States last year totaled nearly $1.5 billion. Imports from the United States total $1.2 billion.

Japanese industry has been working on a theory that it must produce abroad to hold its overseas markets. Plants have been established in Southeast Asia, Latin America and on a limited scale in Europe. But there had been no talk here about moving into the United States.

The invitation was reported in today's Nihon Keizai, a respected financial daily, which said the invitation was received from the U.S. Department of Commerce through the U.S. Embassy in Tokyo.

A U.S. Embassy spokesman confirmed the offer but pointed out that the areas involved were not depressed regions but "areas of potential for further industrialization."

The spokesman said the offer was an extension abroad of programs by the various states to encourage investors from within the nation, resulting from the setting up of an Office of International Investment within the U.S. Department of Commerce.

Kansas and North Carolina were mentioned, he explained, "because it so happened that we happened to have investment literature on these states on hand. But there are other areas too, such as Maine, New Jersey and areas on the West Coast."

Japanese business sources said the plan was still in an embryonic stage with many barriers involved, such as immigration laws relating to sending Japanese personnel to the United States, differences in management practices, and the gap between American and Japanese wage levels.

It was not known whether specific industries were mentioned in the American proposal.

The only sizable Japanese manufacturing venture to date in the United States is the Alaska Pulp Co., a government-backed firm that operates a mill at Sitka, Alaska.

Factory Workers' Earnings Up

ATLANTA (AP)—The average weekly earnings of Arkansas factory workers in May was $7.15, an increase of $3.16 over the same month a year ago, according to a U.S. Department of Labor report. The report said the average hourly wage increase from $1.50 to $1.65 during the period and the average number of hours worked each week from 40.5 to 40.7.

While the Arkansas wage showed a healthy increase, it remained far below the weekly average in neighboring states and the national average of $9.20.

The report showed Louisiana's average wage was $9.30, Oklahoma's $9.19, and Texas' $9.10 with the four southwest regional states averaging $9.45.

Distribution of natural gas began in Arkansas soon after the turn of the century, with Ft. Smith and Texarkana among the first towns supplied.

was introduced. Dick Huie, candidate for Chancellor, and Wayne Boyce, representing his brother Sam Boyce, candidate for Attorney General, made short talks before the singing of old favorites was led by Mr. Porter.

A delicious dinner prepared by the ladies of Washington was served under the shade trees on the Tavern lawn.

At 1 p.m. announcements were made by the County candidates and short talks were made by Bill Demman and John Goodson, candidates for Prosecuting Attorney and Mrs. Royce Welsenberger, representing her husband, a candidate for Chancellor.

Among the distinguished guests introduced were retired Army Col. Dan W. Jones III of Little Rock, grandson of Gov. Dan W. Jones (1896); J. Curran Conway of Little Rock, grandson of Arkansas' first Governor, James Sevier Conway (1836) and William P. Rock, of Little Rock, Executive Director of the Arkansas Industrial Development Commission that is encouraging restoration projects at historical sites in the state.

Throughout the day visitors were conducted on tours of the Foundation's activities. Among the places open were the Block-Catts House, built in 1817 and donated by E. C. Catts, of Atlanta, Ga.; The Tavern, where in December, 1834 General Sam Houston planned the successful Texas Revolution, complete restoration made possible by Mr. and Mrs. William R. King of Memphis, Tenn.; the Blacksmith Shop, where in 1831 James Black made for Col. James Bowie the original of the famous Bowie Knife, complete restoration made possible by Mr. Albert Simms of Albuquerque, N.M.; the Gun Shop containing the famous gun collection of B. W. Edwards of Hope; and the Confederate State Capitol Building.

Witnesses said he would have been forced to sell the News if the Democrat had been sold.

The other newspaper at Morrilton is the Headlight, recently purchased by a corporation organized by Alderman Jack Bland, City Atty. Felver Rowell and Herman Henson of Conway. Bland was a shop employee of the Headlight.

The judgment against Wirges was sought by Rex Paul of Greenville, Miss., formerly of Jacksonville, Paul brought suit for the purchase price of a weekly newspaper which went out of business shortly after Wirges sold it. Wirges had purchased the paper from Paul.

Wirges said Wednesday night he would notify Hawkins, who had posted notices of the sale, that the judgment was settled.

Hawkins has been a target in the Democrat's campaign against alleged corruption and election irregularities in Conway County. Wirges filed a $150,000 damage suit against Hawkins Tuesday, charging him with malicious abuse of authority and power and with officious meddling in Wirges affairs. The suit asks punitive and actual damages.

The suit contends that because of Wirges' campaign against Hawkins and the alleged corruption, Hawkins had set about to destroy the newspaper and was not qualified to hold the auction against Wirges.

Gutowski charged Wednesday that there had been a "blatant political power play to silence the press." He said Hawkins "would because he had personal animus like nothing better than to see this newspaper go on the block because it has been a stumbling block to his dirty politics."

Tuesday Wirges attempted to stop the sale with petitions from himself and two of his creditors, Judge Audrey Strait who returned the judgment against Wirges, rejected the petitions.

Joe Hurley of El Dorado, who sold the Democrat to Wirges in 1947, argued that the state law under which the sale was to be held was unconstitutional.

Judge Strait said Wednesday night cancellation of the sale would not require any action by him. He said a sheriff's sale was between the sheriff and the plaintiff and independent of the court.

The Democrat, established in 1895, has a circulation of about 3,600. The Headlight, established in 1874, has a circulation reported at about 1,400.

"I am pleased and relieved that the threatened sale of my newspaper has been canceled," Wirges said. "It was altogether fitting and proper that Dr. Gutowski's move came on Independence Day, and I want to express my sincere appreciation to him as well as to hundreds of persons who have condesign, involving the progressive merger of separate sovereignties into some larger political unity.

"The United States looks on this vast new European enterprise with hope and admiration," Kennedy said. "We do not regard a strong and united Europe as a rival but as a partner."

Administration officials, however, cautioned against reading into Kennedy's speech any more than a long-range statement of purpose.

In his address, Kennedy said: "It would be premature, at this time, to do more than indicate the high regard with which we would view the formation of this partnership."

"The first order of business is for our European friends to go forward in forming the more perfect union which will someday make it possible."

Doctor Pays, Newspaper's Sale Is Off

MORRILTON, Ark. (AP) — The sale of the weekly Morrilton Democrat for debt was averted today after a doctor paid an $11,400 judgment against the publisher and other citizens raised $528.45 to pay court costs.

Dr. Stanley C. Gutowski of Perryville paid Wednesday the judgment against Gene Wirges, owner and publisher of the Democrat and the Perry County News.

Then Wirges paid the $528.45 to day after Sheriff Marlin Hawkins said he would proceed with the auction of the newspaper as approved in a circuit court order Tuesday unless court costs were paid. He said he could sell it anytime between 9 a.m. and 3 p.m. today.

Wirges said he paid the court costs to Hawkins' attorney, Lt. Gen. Nathan Gordon, under protest because he considered them excessive. "We'll decide later how to handle the protest," he said.

The publisher said he had never met Gutowski until he walked into his office Wednesday and offered to pay the judgment owing on a Jacksonville newspaper which went out of business.

Gutowski, a Republican candidate for the legislative seat held by Perry County Rep. Paul Van Dalsem, said he paid the debt for Wirges because of reports that sale of the Democrat would put both Morrilton newspapers and the Perry County News all "under the thumb of Hawkins, Van Dalsem and general boss rule."

Wirges said he would have been forced to sell the News if the Democrat had been sold.

The other newspaper at Morrilton is the Headlight, recently purchased by a corporation organized by Alderman Jack Bland, City Atty. Felver Rowell and Herman Henson of Conway. Bland was a shop employee of the Headlight.

may deem fit." The letters said the threats were "no more ruthless than the situation the doctors have subjected the people to in a callous disregard for health and safety."

Ironically, the letter had the effect of taking the doctors out of service. Both had been on emergency duty at Saskatoon's St. Paul's Hospital, one of 34 centers set up to provide free treatment until normal medical services are resumed. After the threats, the doctors returned to Swift Current to move their families.

In Regina, Police Chief A. G. Cookson would neither confirm nor deny reports that police were closely guarding the legislative buildings for fear of violent demonstrations.

In Saskatoon, Hans Taal, vice-president of the provincial Keep Our Doctors Committee, said a mass demonstration is planned in front of the legislative buildings later this week to demand the repeal of the government program.

President Bert McKay of Moosomin, a member of the committee, said that "in a measure, we have lost the battle" because doctors already were leaving the province to practice elsewhere.

Wirges said he had heard that a group of Morrilton citizens also had raised the money necessary to stop the sale and said at least 20 persons across the county had begun drives to prevent the sale.

Vegetables in Abundance at Markets

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The abundance of America's gardens and farms will be in city groceries and countryside stands this week as the summer's harvest reaches market.

Look for a profusion of native vegetables and fruits for quantity purchases.

Little will be unavailable this week either at meat or grocery counters. It's the time of year for native fruits and vegetables and a motorist need only travel along a country road to find bargains.

Budget-minded shoppers will find plenty of green beans, cabbage, corn, cucumbers, lettuce, green peppers, peas, onions and tomatoes.

Plentiful fruits include cantaloupes, watermelons, peaches, lemons and oranges. Locally, some may be at bargain prices.

Meats in supply include chicken, turkey, bacon, smoked picnic meats and a variety of beef, lamb and pork cuts. Many stores are advertising "milk-fed spring lamb."

One retail chain is featuring ribs of beef at 59 cents a pound in its New York outlets.

As usual, dairy products remain in abundance. Eggs are in the same category.

July fish plentiful, says the U.S. Department of Agriculture, include filets, shrimp and canned tuna.

Gas Service Out Near Clarksville

CLARKSVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Service to the 20 homes in the Hunt community 12 miles northwest of Clarksville was disrupted Wednesday when an eight-inch gas main ruptured with a roar that could be heard for miles.

An Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co. spokesman said there was no danger.

The line runs from Cecil in Franklin County to Little Rock. Arkla said service to Little Rock would continue from storage tanks until the line is repaired.

Caroline Is Going Abroad

WASHINGTON (AP) — Four-year-old Caroline Kennedy is going abroad next month. Her mother, Mrs. John F. Kennedy, will take the child with her when she visits in Italy with her sister, Princess Lee Radziwill, the White House announced Wednesday. John Jr., 19 months, will remain at home.

Carroll and Washington counties led the state in the yield per acre of corn in 1961 with an average of more than 46 bushels per acre.

Fire Station Just Fell to Pieces

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—The damndest thing happened while Rocky Ridge firemen were moving their fire station. It fell to pieces.

Volunteer firemen in suburban Rocky Ridge raised the station from its foundation and got it onto a flat bed trailer.

Fire station and truck had just started moving when the building collapsed.

The firemen are now moving their station piece by piece to the new site where it will be rebuilt.

Buyers Are Touring Crossett Co.

CROSSETT, Ark. (AP)—Officials of the Georgia-Pacific Corp., toured facilities of the Crossett Co., today while escrow agencies were tabulating stock tenders to learn whether a deal for sale of the firm had gone through.

Owen R. Cheatham of New York, Georgia-Pacific board chairman, and Robert R. Pamplin, president of Portland, Ore., led a nine-man delegation through Crossett Co. properties.

It was the first formal visit by Georgia-Pacific officials since the firm offered to buy all Crossett Co., stock for $55 a share with the offer contingent on obtaining controlling interest.

Deadline for tendering stock was Monday and Georgia-Pacific officials in New York said today the company would make no statement on how much stock was offered until tabulation of the tenders is complete.

It was unlikely that a report would come today. There are 2.2 million shares of Crossett Co., stock outstanding.

Georgia-Pacific has said it hopes to complete the purchase of Crossett Co. by July 9.

Stockholders were to deposit their stock with depository banks, acting as Georgia-Pacific's escrow agents. The banks were to tally the stock to be sent if Georgia-Pacific has enough for ownership.

There are 2.2 million shares of Crossett Co. stock outstanding.

Trying to Solve Kidnap Slaying

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States and the Dominican Republic are working together to try to solve a bizarre six-year-old mystery that erupted into charges of international kidnapping and assassination.

The center of the cloak and dagger intrigue is Dr. Jesus de Galindez, who stepped through a New York subway into oblivion on a March night in 1956 after writing a book to expose the brutalities of Gen. Rafael Trujillo's iron-fisted dictatorship in the Dominican Republic.

Foes of Trujillo contended the general had reached into the heart of Manhattan to eliminate an enemy.

There were stories that the professor, who was teaching international law at Columbia University, was drugged and flown to the Caribbean country by an American pilot who also disappeared.

Trujillo heatedly denied the charges and there were hearings and investigations. But no light was shed on De Galindez' disappearance, nor was he ever reported seen alive again.

When Trujillo was alive U.S. investigators probing the case got no cooperation from Dominican Republic authorities.

Trujillo was assassinated in May 1961 and the new government is anxious to solve the De Galindez case, a State Department source said Wednesday night.

For several months, he said, U.S. and Dominican Republic investigators have been checking through long-lost files and questioning members of Trujillo's intelligence police now held in

Lock Guards Any Firing Accidentally

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has informed its European allies of the successful development of a new, secret electronic lock which will be used to reinforce safeguards against the accidental or unauthorized firing of nuclear weapons.

President Kennedy is expected to ask Congress soon for an appropriation of funds to complete work on the device, start making and begin installation in nuclear weapons.

The Allies were told through the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, it was learned, that the new electronic lock will broaden the margin of safety in nuclear weapons control systems and strengthen the exercise of direct control over weapons by top commanders. U.S. officials said the development of increasingly secure control systems becomes more important as the number of weapons increases.

The locking device is already perfected for the larger nuclear weapons such as those warheads deployed in the European-NATO area for use on medium range ballistic missiles. According to present plans the first operational use of the device will be in the forward missile deployment area.

The device is authoritatively described as an electro-mechanical system controlled by a radio signal to be sent from a command headquarters remote from the actual missile site.

In effect, the device in its normal position makes a break in the electrical circuit necessary to the firing of the nuclear warhead. It couldn't be fired until an authorized commander dispatched the necessary coded radio signal that would operate the device. The device itself would not do the firing but it would control the arming of the warhead. This is comparable to cocking a rifle in advance of firing it by pulling the trigger.

NLB Rules in Crossett Case

WASHINGTON (AP)—A National Labor Relations Board examiner has recommended that the Crossett Forestry Division of the Crossett Co., of Arkansas, cease soliciting employees to withdraw from local 5,475 of International Woodworkers of America, AFL-CIO.

The examiner also recommended that the company cease soliciting the employees to withdraw their union dues deduction authorizations.

The examiner's recommendations are subject to review by the board.

The company denied that it had been engaging in unfair practices.

One Thing Wrong Had No Ticket

REDONDO BEACH, Calif. (AP)—There was just one thing wrong with the 2,400 mile jet flight John O'Rourke, 13, took from Los Angeles to New York. He didn't have a ticket.

New York police, alerted by Trans World Airlines, met the plane, gave him breakfast and shunted him back to Los Angeles in time for lunch Wednesday.

John O'Rourke, the boy's father, of Redondo Beach, said the boy had run away previously to San Diego and Winslow, Ariz.

Linked to the professor's disappearance was an American free-lance pilot, Gerald Murphy.

$2.4 Million Found in Car of Gambler

JERSEY CITY, N.J. (AP)—Investigators concentrated today on convicted gambler Joseph (Newsboy) Moriarty in attempts to solve a $2.4 million question—who left the cache of cash in an abandoned automobile?

The Jersey City police chief, Austin J. Conley, said it all points to Moriarty, 52, now serving a 2-to-3 year term in the state prison at Trenton.

Conley said government bonds registered in the name of Moriarty and Moriarty's brother, Alfred, who died five years ago.

Lawrence A. Whipple, Hudson County prosecutor, and three aides spent 15 minutes with Moriarty Wednesday at the prison and told him of the find.

"You've just lost $2 1/2 million," Whipple said he told the prisoner. "He listened deadpan," Whipple related, "then he said, 'You're telling me this, Mr. Prosecutor.' He would neither admit nor deny ownership of anything that was found. He said he would get a lawyer. He said he would consider making a statement afterward."

The fortune at issue, ranging in denominations from $1,000 bills down to $5, was found Tuesday by two unidentified carpenters in the trunk of a 1947 Plymouth housed in a garage.

R. W. Bachman, special agent in charge of the Newark office of the FBI, said Moriarty was arrested in a 1947 Plymouth in 1951.

Also found in the car were four guns—45 and 32-caliber revolvers, a 32-caliber Belgian automatic and 22-caliber rifle—and considerable ammunition. Equipment of the type used by bookmakers and numbers operators was discovered in a 1951 Ford stored in an opposite garage.

"We don't know yet who the money belongs to—ownership is a legal question for the U.S. attorney's office," Bachman said. "This is the largest amount of money I have ever come in contact with in all my experience with the FBI."

Purchases Land

BENTONVILLE, Ark. (AP)—The Bentonville City Council has authorized the purchase of eight acres of land fronting U.S. Highway 71 as the site for the new city hospital. Bentonville residents approved a $155,000 bond issue to help pay for the $500,000 hospital.

Raging Angels Win Pair to Take the Lead

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

If past performance charts mean anything, the Los Angeles Angels are 2-1 to finish first in the American League pennant derby—which would rank as one of the most cockeyed upsets in baseball history.

The Angels swept into the lead in Wednesday's big holiday program by scoring two victories over Washington, 4-2 and 4-1. That pushed them a half game ahead of the New York Yankees, who split with the Kansas City Athletics, losing the opener 11-4 and winning the nightcap 7-3.

One of baseball's barometers is the July 4 standings—with the team topping the league the traditional favorite to wind up as champion. It's happened that way 41 times in the AL's 61 years, for a 67 per cent average or two out of three times. But last season the Yankees split an Independence Day doubleheader with Detroit, leaving them a game back of the Tigers—but the Yankees emerged as runaway pennant winners.

And, tradition and percentages to the contrary, hardheaded baseball men—and oddsmakers—expect the heavily-favored Yankees to repeat the job this time out.

In Wednesday's other American League doubleheaders—Cleveland edged to within two percentage points of New York with a pair of overtime victories over Detroit, 1-0 and 6-2. Minnesota and Boston played even, the Twins taking the first 8-4 and the Red Sox the second 9-5; and Baltimore split with Chicago, the Orioles winning 7-3 and the White Sox 5-2.

In the National League, the Dodgers beat Philadelphia twice, 16-1 and 7-3; San Francisco remained just a half game off the pace with two romps over the New York Mets, 11-4 and 10-3; Pittsburgh swept Houston 7-0 and 4-3; Cincinnati, trimmed Chicago 4-6 and St. Louis shut out Milwaukee 2-0 after the Braves scored a 7-5 victory over the Cards in the completion of Tuesday night's suspended game.

The Angels jumped in front against Washington in both games, and nailed down the sweep with strong relief pitching. Right-hander Ken McBride (8-3) won his seventh in a row in the opener. Dean Chance supplied the needed help from the bullpen.

Leon Wagner, the league's leading home run hitter, smacked No. 24 with one on in the third and Felix Torres also banged a two-run homer for Los Angeles in the second game. Art Fowler preserved the pitching victory for southpaw Ted Bowsfield.

After a no-hit, no-pitch, no-field performance in their first game against the A's, the Yankees cut loose in the second. In the sixth Cleve Boyer homered, Roger Maris homered with two on, and Mickey Mantle belted his second of the game.

In the opener, rookie right-hander Diego Segui held the Yanks to six hits while Kansas City rapped out 16.

Jim Perry fired a five-hitter and scored Cleveland's run as the Indians nipped Hank Aguirre and Detroit in their opener.

Cleveland came from behind twice in the second game before Dillard slammed his bases-loaded homer off loser Jerry Casale in the 13th. Gary Bell was the winner with three innings of two-hit relief.

The Twins ran off with the opener against Boston behind Bill Pleis' 7 1-3 innings of tight relief pitching.

Johnny Temple rapped out four hits and Jerry Adair lagged a decisive two-run homer in the sixth inning as the Orioles scored over Chicago. Then a flurry of four unearned runs against Chuck Estrada in the third inning and lefty Juan Pizarro's six-hit pitching gave the White Sox the victory in the second game.

Jimenez, 23, may have been hiding his true feelings but he didn't seem at all disturbed by the snub.

"I am disappointed, of course," said the left-handed slugger from San Pedro de Macoris in the Dominican Republic, "but I am not angry at anybody."

"I think I have right to be on All-Stars," Jimenez continued in his best broken English, "and it would give me great pleasure but I can do nothing about it, yes?" "It would be good thing for me to make All-Star team in my first year, no?"

NORTH LITTLE ROCK (AP)—North Little Rock may attempt to foot Fort Smith out of its status as the state's second largest city by annexing some additional territory. North Little Rock was the second largest after the 1960 census, but a special census since then gave the nod to Fort Smith. The North Little Rock Planning Commission decided Tuesday night to study the matter. Population figures now give North Little Rock 58,032 while Fort Smith has 63,300.

Dodgers Lead Half a Game Over Giants

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Los Angeles Dodgers have passed the July 4 milestone with a half-game edge over San Francisco's Giants and added baseball tradition to their line-up in their struggle for National League supremacy.

Tradition jumped on Los Angeles' bandwagon after Wednesday's program as the Dodgers swept their seventh consecutive doubleheader by belting Philadelphia 1-1 and 7-3. The twin triumphs kept the Dodgers a half-trip ahead of the Giants, who whipped the New York Mets 11-4 and 10-3.

That, according to baseball's July 4 rule of measure gives the Dodgers a commanding edge over the runner up Giants. In the 61 seasons since the turn of the century, 39 NL teams leading after the holiday games have won the pennant—an average of 4 per cent.

The Dodgers' sweep turned Los Angeles into the baseball capital—for a day at least—as the 2-year-old Angels moved into first place in the American League by defeating Washington 4-2 and 4-1. In the AL, 41 of 1 July 4 leaders—or 67 per cent—have won the pennant.

Pittsburgh remained in third place in the NL, taking Houston 7-0 and 4-3. Fourth-place St. Louis stopped Milwaukee 2-0 after losing the completion of Tuesday night's suspended game, 7-5. Cincinnati's defending champs, in fifth place, defeated the Chicago Cubs 8-6.

Elsewhere in the AL, the New York Yankees fell to second by losing to Kansas City 11-1 before winning the nightcap 7-3. Third-place Cleveland edged Detroit 1-0 in 10 innings and Boston 8-4, then lost 9-6 and Baltimore defeated Chicago 7-3 before the White Sox won the second game 5-2.

Frank Howard's single and bases-loaded double drove in five runs in support of Sandy Koufax' five-hit pitching as the Dodgers pounded Chris Short (4-5) and his successors for 18 hits in the first game. Koufax (12-4) didn't allow a hit until Ted Savage homered in the seventh inning.

Howard drove in two runs in the nightcap. Tommy Davis had a two-run homer and run-scoring single. Joe Moeller (6-5) got credit for the Dodgers sixth consecutive victory. Dennis Bennett (2-4) was the loser.

Home runs got the job done for the Giants in both halves of their doubleheader with the Mets. Willie McCovey smashed a pair in the opener, Ed Bailey and Jim Davenport also connected as Bob Bolin (3-0) won it with a seven-hitter. Bob Miller (0-7) was the loser.

Willie Mays hit two homers in the second game to give Billy O'Dell (10-6) enough working room to last the distance although tagged for 10 hits. Billy Hunter (1-4) took the loss.

Vern Law (7-3) continued his comeback for the Pirates in the opener to post his fourth consecutive triumph. Bob Bruce (6-2) was the loser.

An 11-hit offensive also worked for the Pirates in the nightcap. El Roy Face, working in relief of Earl Francis (5-5) ran into trouble in the ninth when the Colts pushed across two runs, but got Merritt Raney on a grounder to end it. Jim Golden (5-7) was the loser. Ed Mathews clinched the verdict

License Renewal

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The state Game and Fish Commission said Wednesday it would begin rigid enforcement of state boat license renewal regulations July 15. July 1 was the deadline for renewal, but the commission said it was allowing a period of grace. Owners may renew licenses by mailing the $1 fee and the boat number to the county clerk.

Admiral Dies

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice Adm. James H. Thach Jr., 61, a native of Pine Bluff, died Wednesday at his home in Old Lyme, Conn. He retired in 1957 after 34 years with the Navy.

for the Braves in the suspended game by breaking the 5-5 tie with a two-run ninth inning homer. The Cards took the regulation contest as Ernie Broglio (4-3) checked the Braves on three singles to beat Warren Spahn (7-10).

Leo Cardenas' brilliant play on Billy Williams grounder after the Cubs had scored four runs in the eighth preserved the Reds' triumph for Jim Maloney (3-3). Dick Ellsworth (4-13) lost it.

Peck, Culp Win Country Club Meet

George Peck and Roland Culp of Prescott teamed up Wednesday to win the Hope Country Club Golf Tournament with a three under par 65.

Jomenez Not Worried Over Star Game

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The failure of his fellow American Leaguers to vote him on the All-Star team has failed to dampen the bubbling spirits of Manny Jimenez, who is more concerned with maintaining his position at the top of the circuit's hit parade.

Not so Kansas City Manager Hank Bauer who feels the players have done an injustice to his roly poly right fielder who leads the Athletics in batting, hits, home runs and total bases and is second to Norm Siebern in runs-batted in.

"It's a darn shame," said Bauer who didn't feel too well anyway after the New York Yankees had come from behind to beat the A's 7-3 after the Athletics had won the opener 11-4 Wednesday.

Jimenez finished behind Roger Maris and runner-up Lee Thomas of the Angels in the players' vote. Yankee Manager Ralph Houk, who will pilot the American League squad in the All-Star game at Washington, D.C. next Tuesday,

ELECT DENMAN PROSECUTING ATTORNEY

For The Counties Of:
Miller, Lafayette,
Hempstead, Nevada and Clark.

STATEMENT OF POSITION:

1. Graduated from the University of Arkansas Law School in 1949 and have had general experience in State and Federal Courts in all types of litigation.
2. Will conduct office in an active manner in order to keep the criminal cases current. I believe delayed justice is an injustice.
3. After election, I will select and appoint a deputy in each county to aid me in the work of this office. This deputy will be an able and aggressive local attorney acceptable to the people of the county.
4. I can serve the Circuit better because of my central location since my home is in Prescott, therefore giving me a better knowledge of the problems of the entire circuit.
5. I believe in equal justice for all; that the law knows no difference between persons.
6. I am an independent candidate and will be an independent Prosecuting Attorney owing no special favors to anyone.

The pretty widow, Mrs. McGraw, lived next door.

THE TERRIBLE DRAGON

By A. J. BENCHLEY

Aunt Zenia, whose tongue was "on" 90 percent of her waking hours, bellowed from the kitchen door at Diony, her quiet nephew who was putting peacefully in the garden. The roar nearly punctured his sensitive ear-drums.

"Five years ago you came to me, Diony," she said when he walked into the kitchen. "Straight from Greece and dumb like a big ox. Today, you are 30 and still a bachelor. I say it is because you are afraid of women. Ha!" She threw back her dyed-black head. "Come with me tonight to the Coral, eh?"

The Coral was a ballroom for lonely people over 35. Aunt Zenia went there with pathetic but optimistic regularity every Saturday night in search of a man—any man.

Diony sighed. "Please, for my birthday give me a kind gift, Aunt Zenia. Give me peace."

"That is all you ever have!" She banged the coffee pot. "What have you done since you came here? First, books. Always you study. Then the records. Your ears glued to the record player."

"It was to learn good English," Diony said.

"Did it make you rich?" his aunt taunted.

"I am a citizen now," said Diony.

"You still work in a restaurant," Aunt Zenia could never understand that Diony saved his money so that someday he could own his own restaurant.

"What do you dream of now, Diony?" his aunt asked. "How will you go back to Greece a rich man? Better you buy good clothes. You look like a scarecrow!"

A dog's bark and subdued laughter came from the back yard of the house next door. Aunt Zenia stamped her foot. "Why does 'she' keep a stupid beast like that? It is a mixture of all the curs in the world."

Diony thought that it was not the dog, but the dog's owner, the pretty widow, Mrs. McGraw, which Aunt Zenia disliked.

Diony walked out to the garden to water the willow-tree. Aunt Zenia followed. Her harsh words and rasping voice made him clutch the garden hose with subdued anger.

Suddenly he turned to face her, but as he did, the water from the hose swept over the fence onto pretty Mrs. McGraw, who was reading in a bamboo chair in her back yard. There was a shriek of surprise from Mrs. McGraw and loud lusty laughter from Aunt Zenia.

Diony blinked with embarrassment, but Mrs. McGraw laughed and said it did not matter. Then she walked with dignity into her house.

When Diony went into his, he found Aunt Zenia convulsed with laughter which continued as she prepared to go dancing. "It gave me so much satisfaction!" she roared. "Just because her husband left her a little money, does it make her a Duchess?"

It was not until Aunt Zenia left that Diony ventured to call on Mrs. McGraw with an apology. He stayed for coffee and quiet conversation. Much later he returned home. He packed his clothes, scribbled a note and paused before leaving the house.

Tomorrow, he thought, Aunt Zenia would breakfast alone. Her toast would taste acid from her venomous tongue when she read the note:

"I am going to Key West, Florida, to open a motel-restaurant there where it is warm. I have saved $4,000, Aunt Zenia. No more terrible dragons for me. No stupid ox of a nephew for you to cut with the harsh words. Diony."

He was looking forward to renewing acquaintance with someone who always took a Florida vacation this time of year. He would meet again the pretty little widow who didn't get mad when doused with a garden hose.

Mills Praised for Work on Trade Bill

Associated Press Special Service

WASHINGTON (AP)—Although he modestly deprecates his role, Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., is being congratulated on all sides for his work in getting the controversial trade expansion bill through the House.

Under Mills' leadership the House rejected, 253-171, a Republican-backed move to sidetrack the measure in favor of a straight extension of the present program and then went on to pass the administration bill 299 to 125.

Passage of the measure probably was the administration's biggest win of the year and provided President Kennedy with some solace after his farm bill was defeated only the week before on a narrow vote.

Mills is given much of the credit for the result both by the White House and by seasoned veterans on Capitol Hill.

After the bill was passed, Kennedy personally called Mills to express his gratitude. Mills, in conformity with his custom, won't state publicly what the President told him. But it was learned that Kennedy was profuse in his thanks and jokingly said that next year he'll try to route all his program—including a farm bill—through Mills' Ways and Means committee.

The thought horrifies Mills, whose committee has met day after day—and frequently far into the night—since the session opened in January. He's tired.

House Democratic leaders, including Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., and Democratic Leader Carl Albert, D-Okla., had high praise for Mills' handling of the trade expansion bill, as did many Democratic and Republican members.

"His tact and diplomacy, plus the Mills touch, did the job," said one Hill veteran.

While comparisons are unfair, since the two measures dealt with entirely different subjects, many writers have compared the vote on the farm and trade bills.

When the motion was made to recommit the farm bill all but one of the Republicans members, plus a batch of 48 Democrats, voted "yes" and thus killed the measure.

When a similar motion was made on the trade bill, Mills lost only 44 Democrats but, more importantly, he won over 43 Republicans.

Mills knew when he began his explanation of the bill the last day of the debate that he needed a sizeable block of Republicans.

In his speech he frequently made references to the aid which Republicans on the committee had given the bill and to the bipartisan support it had received generally. He avoided any claims it was a Democratic bill.

After it was all over one Republican told him: "Wilbur, you got those Republican votes all by yourself."

Mills probably held the floor longer that day than any member has done in a considerable time. When he arose, he planned a 20-minute talk. It ran about half an hour. And then the members held him for nearly another hour asking questions, seeking explanations of provisions in the complicated bill.

His frank and candid answers were credited by several of his colleagues with winning over some of the doubtful votes.

Shortly before the windup of the debate, one Republican member of his committee who supported the bill, predicted that the motion to send the bill back to committee would be defeated by perhaps 10 to 15 votes. It actually lost by 82 votes—a good indication that Mills or someone had won over a batch of the members.

A group of Arkansas poultrymen appeared before a House Agriculture subcommittee recently to oppose any move which might result in a nationwide egg marketing order.

Spokesmen for the group included Ted Barrach, Ted Cameron and Lex Killebrew of the state poultry association, Little Rock.

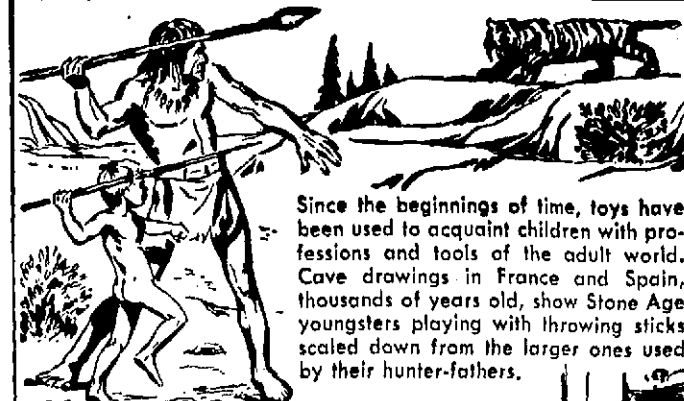

Barrach made a plea for individual farm enterprise and said the problem of declining egg prices should be solved without government interference.

A committee member observed that Arkansas grows considerable cotton and that the cotton farmers appear well satisfied with the production control program for that commodity. So why, he asked, wouldn't they likewise support a control program for eggs?

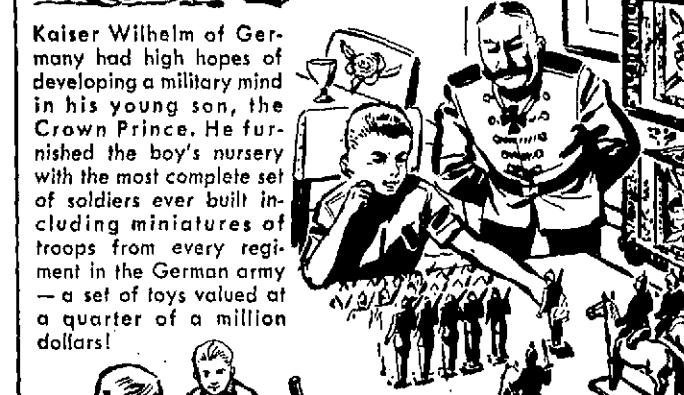

Barrach replied that in the first place he wasn't in the cotton business. But he said, there is a vast difference between cotton and eggs because cotton is a commodity that can be stored indefinitely by the Character Guidance Div. of the Lido Corp.

"Toys Through The Ages"

Since the beginnings of time, toys have been used to acquaint children with professions and tools of the adult world. Cave drawings in France and Spain, thousands of years old, show Stone Age youngsters playing with throwing sticks scaled down from the larger ones used by their hunter-fathers.

Kaiser Wilhelm of Germany had high hopes of developing a military mind in his young son, the Crown Prince. He furnished the boy's nursery with the most complete set of soldiers ever built including miniatures of troops from every regiment in the German army—a set of toys valued at a quarter of a million dollars!

Modern toy manufacturers today use plastics to give youngsters hours of play with junior versions of adult machines. Junior architects and engineers, using Lido Corporation's faithful toy re-creations of heavy equipment, build in fancy, the highways, bridges and buildings they may one day help to construct in reality.

It would cost a lot of money to put it in tip-top shape," Bennett said, "and we have serious doubts that spending that much money would be justified."

Bennett said some of the Alcatraz prisoners would be sent to Marion and others to federal prisons at Leavenworth, Kan.; Atlanta, Ga., and perhaps other institutions.

His explanation came after he plunged from the crane into the Harlem River Monday night and had to be rescued by two patrolmen. The Bronx steelworker was taken to the psychiatric ward of Bellevue Hospital.

Prison System to Abandon Alcatraz

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Bureau of Prisons will begin closing out Alcatraz next year by transferring prisoners to other penal institutions, Director James V. Bennett said today.

The transfers will begin upon completion of the new federal prison at Marion, Ill., scheduled to open next year.

Alcatraz will be phased out as Marion comes into operation, Bennett said. No deadline has been set for the complete discontinuance of Alcatraz as a federal prison.

Also, he said, cotton goes to a few specified places for manufacture while eggs are sold in virtually every store in the country.

Figures prepared by the House Public Works Committee show that under a bill it approved to extend the federal-aid highway Act, Arkansas would receive these amounts for the year starting July 1, 1964: Primary roads $6,501,000; secondary roads $1,975,000; urban roads $1,326,000 and interstate roads $28,182,000, a total of $40,784,000.

States must match the federal funds 50-50 in the primary-secondary-urban program and 10-90 in the interstate program.

Times Have Changed in Camping

Arkansas at Play
By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Camping used to be for boys and girls, but now it's for everyone. And the times have changed.

With modern camping equipment and a lot of new ideas, camping is now a lot more fun than it used to be. And the times have changed.

Once the expense of acquiring a tent, a sleeping bag, and a flashlight, camping is now a lot more fun than it used to be. And the times have changed.

Camping is now fun, and what's more, it can be combined with other outdoor recreations, such as fishing, boating, swimming, and water skiing.

Arkansas, with its abundant facilities for outdoor sports, has become a favorite of campers both native and from out of state.

Bryan Stearns, director of parks for the State Publicity and Parks Commission, frankly admits that the demand exceeds the supply in the state's parks.

"We permit camping in all 14 parks," Stearns said. "But the demand has grown all out of proportion. It is far more than we have anticipated."

Stearns said about 300 state park camp sites are now available. This means spurs which have fire pits, fireplaces, wood, water and outdoor restrooms. A daily fee of $1 is charged for each camp.

Most popular of the state parks for camping are Baldy on Lake Greenwood, Bull Shoals below Fall Shoals dam and Buffalo River, Stearns said.

"We are working to expand and hope we can see double our present facilities," he said.

State Parks provide only a fraction of the public facilities available.

Paul Olson, chief of the recreation development branch with the Corps of Engineers in Little Rock, said the engineers have 550 "improved" sites available at such spots as Bull Shoals, Norfork, Blue Mountain, Nimrod and Table Rock reservoirs.

By improved, he said he means places which have tables and fireplaces. No fee is charged for using these sites.

"Many, many other campers go to places on these lakes which are not improved," he said.

Olson said it appears that the federal government will provide more funds for developing camp sites.

Other public facilities are provided by the National Forest Service, the National Park Service and State Game and Fish Commission.

On weekends and holidays, the most popular camp sites look like tent cities with children and pets giving the area homelike atmosphere.

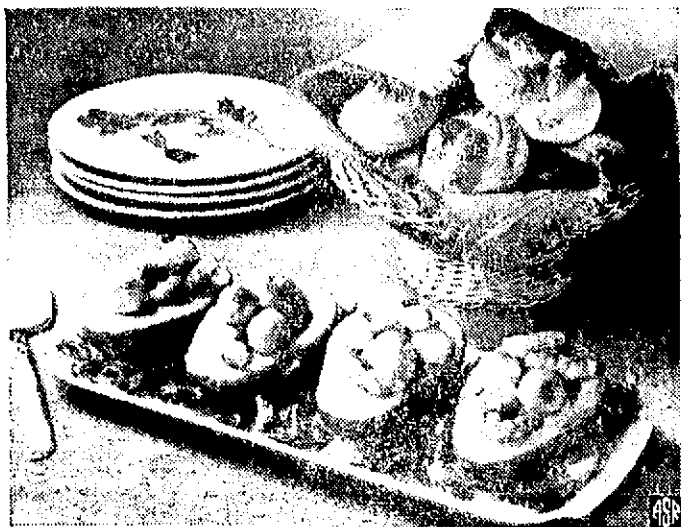

For those who would avoid crowds, the state has plenty of remote areas which offer almost complete privacy.

Must Make Full Marriage Repot

NEW ORLEANS (AP)— Newlywed Mrs. Ronald Francis Currier must make a formal written report informing her father of her marriage.

Her father, school Supt. O. Perry Walker, gave his daughter away upon her marriage to Dr. Ronald Currier, but since Mrs. Currier is a teacher she must comply with school board regulations and inform the superintendent of her marriage.

Bon Voyage With "Avocado Shrimp Boats"

The main dish for a summer luncheon will be a swimming success if it's festive "Avocado Shrimp Boats." Should you prefer to use fresh shrimp in these delicious avocado "boats," cook and drain ½ pound of shrimp and add ½ teaspoon salt to the recipe. Summer avocados from California will be in local markets until October. Most have purplish-black, pebbled skins and are ovoid to pear-shaped. Inside, they are the same as the winter varieties. To test a summer avocado for eating-ripeness, cup it between your hands; if it yields to firm pressure, serve it. Or if a toothpick slides easily into the stem end, the avocado is ready to eat.

Avocado Shrimp Boats
2 tablespoons chopped green onion
¼ cup chopped green pepper
1 cup French dressing
1 tablespoon prepared horseradish
1 can (4½ oz.) deveined shrimp
2 California avocados
Lemon juice
Salad greens

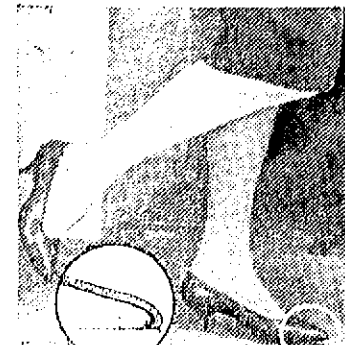

Combine onion, green pepper, dressing, horseradish and shrimp; chill. Cut avocados lengthwise into halves; remove seeds and skin and sprinkle with lemon juice. With a small French ball cutter or ½ teaspoon measure, cut 3 or 4 balls from each half-shell and add to shrimp mixture. Spoon mixture into half-shells. Serve on salad greens. Makes 4 servings.

Fortrel Fashions

This slim shift of vertical tucks swings your town life into perfect focus this summer bringing you a totally new combination of fashion and freedom from care. The chic good looks of this day time to date, cooler is woven of Ryan's care-free textured Fortrel polyester and cotton fabric that stays crisp and creaseless—through heat, humidity and machine washings—needing only taken ironing to maintain its stay-fresh power! The essence of easy-care and a boon to travelers and careerist alike!

Old Soft Shoe Goes Modern

New kind of soft shoe is this Trampoline design, made in a red cuff that is super-soft and extra-comfortable because of an interlining of Scott foot-wear foam. Fine-celled urethane foam is adhered first to lining, then to shoe upper (see drawing in inset), to provide necessary cushioning for fine or thin leathers. Cells are open, so lining "breathes" and is comfortable whatever the weather. Oval toe and how-trimmed, cutout vamp are style notes on these shoes.

Smart Simplicity

IDEAL FOR SUMMER is this cool time textured silk dress, outlined with contrasting braid and button trim to give a trick two-piece effect. How to get into it? . . . by way of a 22" neck-type Taton Zephyr down the back. The Zephyr, made with continuous nylon coils, can't bulge, pinch or chill you and colors are permanently dyed, making the zipper virtually invisible. Make this summer favorite from Simplicity's new pattern No. 4470.

Byrd Against Call for a Tax Slash

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP)— Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, today denounced the U.S. Chamber of Commerce's call for a substantial income tax cut.

Byrd said the reduction would be inflationary and would mean a $15-billion federal deficit.

Byrd thus joined the committee's senior Republican, Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., in assailing the chamber's proposal.

Williams told the Senate Monday that "while it may be politically popular at the time, the long-range inflationary results for Americans would be disastrous."

He declared that "I refuse to have any part of such irresponsible action as to endorse a tax cut in the face of our present deficit."

Byrd told a reporter he would have a detailed statement on the chamber's recommendation later.

But he said that congressional tax experts already had advised him that the proposal would chop tax revenues by $9.5 billion a year instead of the maximum $7.5 billion estimated by chamber officials.

Byrd said he was convinced that even without a tax reduction there would be a federal deficit of $6 billion in the fiscal year which began Sunday.

Thus, Byrd said, the chamber's tax proposal would lead to a deficit of more than $15 billion.

Williams aimed a broadside at Govs. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, a Republican, and Michael V. DiSalle of Ohio, and Edmund G. Brown of California, Democrats. He said he had noted they had joined "in the parade calling for an immediate tax reduction."

"Significantly, last week at the governors' conference we find that the governors were calling for more and more federal aid from Washington," Williams said.

"These governors, as well as the President and the United States Chamber of Commerce, know full well that a tax cut in the face of a continuous rise in government spending would lead to a staggering deficit. A deliberately planned deficit of such proportions at this time would be the most inflationary action this administration could take."

The Americans for Democratic Action today joined the tax cut cry, demanding "a sharp reduction in income tax rates, concentrated in the lower brackets."

The ADA said a cut "has become a matter of immediate urgency to invigorate the national economy."

A U.S. Chamber spokesman opposed proposals for taxing U.S. firms' earnings on foreign investments, part of the administration's tax revision bill.

The chamber spokesman, Wash-

Batesville Firm Plans Expansion

BATESVILLE, Ark. (AP)— A $55,000 expansion program for the Batesville Rubber Co. was announced Saturday by Harry P. Schrank, president of the Seiberling Rubber Co. of Akron, O. The Batesville plant is a subsidiary of the Seiberling Company.

Schrank, saying Seiberling was "putting its chips" on the Batesville plant, announced the program at an open house at the Batesville plant.

He said $55,000 worth of new machinery would be installed this week, giving Batesville the entire production of tread rubber products by the Seiberling Co.

Schrank said a plant at Barber-ton, O., would discontinue production of tread rubber products.

In announcing the expansion, Schrank estimated the Batesville plant's annual money-making potential at $8 million.

THE SALESMAN

By PAULINE ROTHRAUFF

Elaine and Peter had met unconventionally one Sunday afternoon at the Art Museum. Both being interested in modern art and pausing unusually long before the same paintings, they had fallen into conversation. He was personable, intelligent and lovely. It was quite natural that they should wander together from gallery to gallery, discussing their likes and dislikes.

When they parted, she tentatively promised him that she would be back at the museum the following Sunday. And, of course, she was.

On the second Sunday, after spending some time at the museum, they went to a movie and he accompanied her home. They talked about themselves. She told him that she was employed in an advertising agency, and lived alone in a small apartment. He said he was a salesman for a pencil company, and handed her some of the pencils that he carried with him in his coat pocket. She noticed that they were attractive pencils, the wood being in five different shades — red, green, yellow, purple and orange.

The more she saw of him, the better she liked him. He, too, lived alone so she invited him frequently to dinner at her apartment. He was a congenial and lovable friend, always arriving with flowers or some other gift, and always in good spirits.

"You must be a super-salesman," she complimented him one day. "Do you have a great many customers and do you cover much territory?"

"It varies," he replied. "Business is always pretty good. I never realized there'd be so much money in pencils."

She was proud of him and proud to be seen with him. His clothes were conservative and in good taste, his manners impeccable. He enjoyed the theater and art. He seemed to be a perfect gentleman and yet—there was a mystery about him that Elaine could not quite fathom.

At times, he was vague—almost suspiciously so—when she questioned him about the company he worked for and where he lived. She often recalled that much repeated warnings about becoming friendly with strangers in a large city.

"But Peter is different," she reassured herself. "I love him and I think he loves me." She wondered if he would ask her to marry him.

Months went by — they continued to enjoy each other's company. There was no mention of marriage, and the vagueness concerning his personal life still persisted.

Christmas time arrived. She wanted to give him something nice. After much deliberation and window — shopping, she decided upon a tie clip. It was a gold clasp decorated with a small, green beetle — the body of the beetle being a very fine scarab.

He gave her a much, much too expensive fur stole which she scolded him for, but loved.

One night, she mentioned marriage and a home, and how wonderful it would be to really have a place of one's own. He agreed but changed the subject, and left earlier than usual.

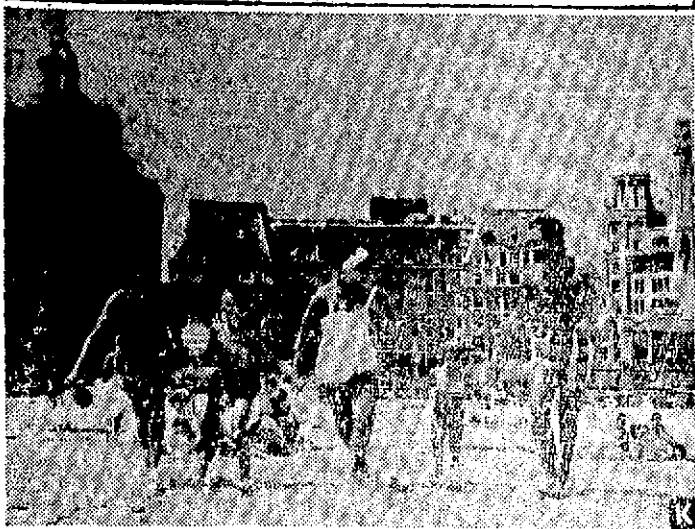

Elaine felt crushed. Something was wrong. She believed Peter felt toward her as she felt toward him, but perhaps the suggestion of marriage had been too bold. After all, he should be the one to suggest it.

But Peter did not stay away long. When he came back nothing was said about marriage.

So they went on, unengaged, but happy companions. Winter departed. Spring arrived.

Elaine and Peter were together again. There were days and nights when she didn't see him. She assumed he was out of town on business. Peter did not ex-

Summer Fun — At The Shore

If your idea of summer fun includes sunshine at the shore and swimming in the salt sea, boat races and beauty contests, tennis tournaments and track meets, marble competitions and music concerts, parades and pageants, hoodlows and antique auto tours...go east this vacation season!

New Jersey's shore, America's favorite summer playground and seaside resort, boasts an exciting calendar of events to thrill visitors from Memorial to Labor Day.

For "do-ers," more than 120 miles of warm waters and sun-drenched sands welcome swimmers, water-skiers, boaters, surf and deep sea anglers. For "watchers," there's also plenty of vacation fun:

An exciting Boating Club Regatta at Long Branch... unusual fireworks displays July Fourth and Labor Day at Asbury Park... top-flight thoroughbred racing at Monmouth Park and Atlantic City tracks... world-famous tennis tournaments, plus marble and shuffleboard championships, at Wildwood... arts and crafts festival at Cape May... hillbilly hoodlows (sea-shore style), choir festival, nightly concerts for music lovers, plus Beauty Pageant—baby version—at Ocean City!

Bell Defends Action in Campaign

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—State Sen. Clarence Bell said today he saw nothing unusual about his becoming Gov. Orval E. Faubus' campaign manager even though he and the governor broke over the teacher retirement issue during the 1961 Legislature.

Bell said he voted his convictions in the controversy and would again but he felt Faubus was "a big enough man to understand" that minor political differences should not disrupt a friendship.

"The governor and I disagree on quite a few political matters," Bell said, "but we still do a lot of fishing at the same fishing hole."

Forrest Rozzell, executive secretary of the Arkansas Education Association, charged last week that Faubus hired Bell in an effort to get the teachers' vote.

"I don't think the teacher vote will be influenced by Clarence Bell or by Forrest Rozzell," Bell said today.

The teacher retirement controversy erupted when Faubus forces attempted to freeze the state's contribution to the retirement system at 5 per cent of teacher pay. Bell and the AEA wanted the percentage set at 9.72. The legislature passed bills authorizing both percentages.

Faubus won the fight by signing his bill and vetoing the AEA's.

Bell said today he did not feel the teacher retirement system was plain.

Elaine loved spring. It was a treat to be out in the fresh, warm breeze. On sunny days, she walked to little out-of-the-way restaurants during her lunch period.

One noon, on her way to a room, she saw a man who appeared to be aged and blind, his face partially hidden by a beard and dark glasses. He stood near a corner store, selling pencils.

She dropped 50 cents in his box, took a pencil and walked on. Then looking down at the pencil, she saw that it was red, green, yellow, purple and orange; the same colors as the pencils Peter had given her.

Suddenly the words "Salesman for a pencil company" flashed through her mind. And, although she felt sure that she was being foolish to even think of Peter in this capacity, she turned and retraced her steps past the man.

She gazed at him intently and, aware of her scrutiny, he lowered his eyes and fumbled with the pencils.

But unfortunately there was no way for him to conceal the scarab clasp which held his tie in place.

The End

Don't Fight Neighbor Over a Dog

WASHINGTON (AP)—Don't fight with your neighbor over a dog. Your wife might answer the door some day and find a mail-order sweetheart, calling for you.

Federal Prison Director J. V. Bennett told a House Appropriations subcommittee last Jan. 25 about such a fellow.

Here is Bennett's story in testimony released today:

"In Baltimore, there was a fellow who was a much-decorated paratrooper and got into an altercation with his neighbor next door over a dog. Well, that caused a fight between him and his neighbor and a third neighbor, so they beat up this fellow, kicked out his teeth, sent him to the hospital for about two weeks, and apparently while he was in the hospital he mullered over how he would try to get even with these fellows.

"So, when he came out, he went around to see the police and they would not do anything about it.

"The first thing he did was to call up the Alcoholics Anonymous group and tell them that his next door neighbor was in need of treatment, so they sent around a task force to look after him. Then he began ordering things through the mails and having them sent to his neighbor.

"He ordered a big fruit cake from Fort Worth sent to a lady down the street, and signed this man's name to it and then she, in turn, called up this man's wife and thanked him for his generosity, saying what a fine person he was.

"Then he began ordering other things, but the crowning blow was that he had carried on some correspondence with a lady whose name he had gotten out of one of those lonely hearts clubs, and in the name of this fellow next door, he invited her to come and call on him at his home.

"Sure enough, she showed up in all her finery, apparently, and of course, she was met at the door at the right time by the man's wife. There you have it."

Paragould Strike Talks Planned

PARAGOULD, Ark. (AP)—Contract negotiations between Emerson Electric Co., and the International Union of Electrical Workers will resume at 1 p.m. Thursday in an effort to settle a 14-day strike.

Representatives of the state Labor Department will sit in on the meeting.

Joe Thornton of Dallas, a union representative, said he hoped the talks which start Thursday continue until a settlement is reached.

Company officials said today there were no strike-related incidents Monday night except for a few harrassing and threatening telephone calls.

Joe Dishinger, plant manager said the company is reviewing contract counterproposals submitted by the union at a meeting last Friday with federal mediator Charles Wheeler of Little Rock.

Burks Resigns Post With ULB

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Resignation of Vivian E. Burks as resident agent for the National Labor Relations Board was announced Monday.

Burks will join a Little Rock law firm.

An NLRB spokesman said Arkansas labor-management dispute cases will be handled out of its Memphis office until a replacement for Burks is named.

Reds Building to Wall Along Berlin Border

By CARL HARTMAN

BERLIN (AP)—Working behind a screen of smoke and tear gas, the Communists began building a wall along West Berlin's border with East Germany Monday night.

There was some suspicion they planned to surround West Berlin with concrete and steel barriers.

The Communists have virtually completed the barricade they began last August along the 2-mile border between East and West Berlin.

Until Monday night, the 69-mile rough are marking West Berlin's boundary with East Germany had been fenced off only with barbed wire.

West Berlin police said the extension work began at Falkensee, a broad street leading from the East German village of Falkensee into the northwest corner of the divided city. Trucks unloaded concrete slabs there and at Seefeldler Weg, a parallel street about 1,000 yards to the south.

East German police threw tear gas and smoke bombs at the West Berlin police could see the workmen laboring under floodlights in a cold rain to replace the barbed wire with masonry.

The extent of the Communist plans to extend the wall could not be determined immediately. The German Interior Minister Karl Maron called on his police to make the "protective wall even more impenetrable."

The longest accessible natural bridge in Arkansas is about three miles northeast of Clinton near U.S. Highway 65.

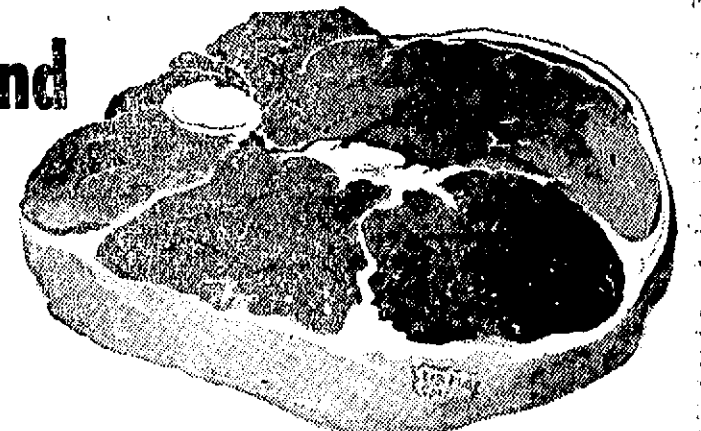

The New Madrid earthquake of 1811 caused the St. Francis River to change its course.

POWER AFLOAT

Early outboard engines had starting ropes, required muscle and luck to get running and keep running. Modern versions have electric starters, greater dependability. One 60 HP outboard has 326 stainless steel parts — shafts, springs, brackets, etc. — to prevent corrosion problems.

Inboard engines provide ample power for bigger boats. Many are converted passenger car engines with special modifications for marine service. Many have stainless steel head gaskets, mufflers and other hardware for maximum durability.

latest propulsion type — water jet — works by sucking water into a high-speed turbine, pumping it through a nozzle at the stern to provide thrust. Turbine shaft is stainless steel for maximum strength and corrosion resistance. Jet eliminates need for a propeller, permits running in and out of shallow waters.

Artificial Liver Now Being Used

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
 Associated Press Science Writer
 CHICAGO (AP)—An artificial liver can rescue some patients from coma due to a faulty liver, three physicians reported today. The substitute liver is a tube filled with special resins—an iron legs. Philadelphia, exchange column—which removes blood is taken from an arm, the physicians stressed. It appears excess ammonia from the blood purged through the column, and passes best for those with some returned to the vein in the arm. liver insufficiency who temporarily. The device has been found capably get into trouble because of the ammonia, which is formed by the removal of 80 per cent of insulin such as infection, excess when proteins are broken down in the blood, the protein in the diet, bleeding in the gastro-intestinal tract, or surgery in the body. The excess ammonia team said. It has brought five out of 10 patients treated thus far out of their troubled first. The new device was described at the American Medical Association's annual convention by Dr. Nathan P. H. Ching, Thomas ing internally before the blood. Now a pharmaceutical firm is developing a disposable, assembled to try it on more patients to establish its full value. The method cannot help all patients which need only the addition of a pump. The physicians said the technique looks promising and safe, and they urged other physicians willing to resume talks as early as Thursday. Disinger said. No definite time was set.

Standoff in Emerson Strike

PARAGOULD, Ark. (AP)—Management and labor continued their standoff today in the Emerson Electric Co. strike, but both sides said they hoped for further negotiations this week. Jim Disinger, Emerson manager, said the company was reviewing contract counterproposals made by the International Union of Electrical Workers at negotiations last Friday before federal mediator Charles Wheeler of Little Rock. "We've told them we would be willing to resume talks as early as Thursday," Disinger said. No definite time was set.

The strike was in its 14th day and Joe Thornton, union representative, said picket lines "are still solid." Thornton said 214 workers are on strike. Disinger said 200 people have been hired to replace the strikers. He said mass hiring has stopped but that applications are still coming in. "We've pretty well manned the plant," Disinger said. The strike began after contract negotiations broke down over fringe benefits.

Mother, Son Unite After Three Years

NEW YORK (AP)—Crying for joy, a small, dark-haired Israeli mother has been reunited with the 10-year-old son she hadn't seen since he was abducted three years ago in a religious dispute. Ida Schumacher planned to take the child back to his homeland as soon as possible after U.S. immigration officials turned him over to her today. She said she wasn't interested in prosecuting the religious zealots who spirited him away. "I am only interested in getting my child," she said. Mrs. Schumacher, 37, arrived from Israel by plane Monday night and was taken immediately to an immigration office to see her son, Yosef, whom she calls "Yossele." They recognized each other immediately, an official said. Mrs. Schumacher rushed to embrace the youth, crying over and over in Hebrew "My boy! My boy!" Peter Esperdy, district director of the Immigration Service, said the boy had been found Saturday at the home of Rabbi Samil Gertner, a member of the ultra-Orthodox Hasidic sect, in Brooklyn. The youth had been living there under the name of Jacob ("Yankele") Gertner. Esperdy said the Gertners neither disputed the identification of the boy as the missing Yosef Schumacher nor claimed the right to keep him. Mrs. Schumacher put the boy in the care of her grandparents, Rabbi and Mrs. Nahman Starkes, in Jerusalem in 1957 because the Schumacher's, recent immigrants to Israel from the Soviet Union, did not have a proper apartment at the time. When they asked for him back three years ago, the rabbi refused on grounds there would not be enough Orthodox discipline in the home. Then the child disappeared. Analysis of the 47 chemical springs in Hot Springs National Park, show the raw of each to be practically identical in chemical content.
